

INTRODUCING Tim Callcott

Tim has spent the last 16 years of his life learning and implementing the strategies of the most successful marketing and business minds in the world to create a successful company of his own. Tim now only works with astute business owners and managers to clarify their business direction and increase their profitability.

His clients benefit from learning how they too can optimise their competitive advantage and achieve their entire personal and business goals by working smart - not just hard.

With over 13 years experience working with diverse industries in Australia, London and throughout Europe, collectively he and his associates have worked with hundreds of businesses to achieve the financial and personal freedom and success they desired.

One of the most powerful things that you will learn when you work with Tim is how to totally systemise and streamline your business so that it no longer requires you working in it every day.

Having lead teams of up to 37 people, Tim will also show you how you can create a dynamic, passionate and enthusiastic team to further accelerate your business goals.

Coming from a finance and investment background earned with PricewaterhouseCoopers, you will profit from Tim's clear demonstration of the financial success blueprint tailored for your business

*“Always have a plan
and believe in it.
Never compromise with excellence.
Nothing good happens
by accident”*

“We all have two choices – we can make a living or we can design a life”
